IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS--

THE LONESOME PINE TRAIL

More About the Important Highway in Prospect to Connect With Letcher's Proposed Roadway

The health of the town and country remains crippled.

Claud Howard, Blackey Bottling Works man, was in for printing.

Our good friend, Jas. F. Smith of Jeremiah, was a pleasant caller in town.

Henry C. Whitaker, good and reliable Dalna citizen called to see about his subscription. We are always glad to see such citizens.

The Turner stock of goods was taken over by William Turner and the store will be continued with W. H. Turner manager.

A new undertaker, Jack Remus, by name, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Swisher and right at the outset undertook to rule things. Dad Remus is so proud he is really pitiful.

Mrs. W. E. Wright, of Neon, sister to the late Jim Tolliver, is reported seriously ill with typhoid.

Mrs. Brock of the Ladies Bazaar is putting on a special sale tomorrow and next day. Her many friends are invited to come.

A well said to be highly contaminated with typhoid germs at or about Neon is said to be the starter of typhoid in the Tolliver family.

Mrs. Ethel Webb Bartley has tendered her resignation as chief operator for the Whitesburg Telephone Company here effective on the 11th. inst. Mrs. Bartley will join her husband at Weeksbury where they will reside for the present.

Chester Fields, young son of Rev. Hiram Fields and Sinda Mullins, young daughter of Johnnie Mullins, were married on Cowan.

Quite a bunch of Whitesburg citizens are attending Uncle Sams Court at Jackson this week. Newt Lewis, Henry Brown, and Wib Collier are doing jury service.

Miss Lucritia Cassidy says she will arrive home on next Monday. She is now in Cincinnati. She wants all her friends to wait on her for Spring Hats etc.

The Baker is here to start and run the Mullins Brothers Bakery. He hopes to have the plant turning out supplies in a week. The people of our town and County should lend every encouragement possible to the success of this new enterprise.

Roy Webb, intelligent young man, and a son of the late Jim Jack Webb was a Weeksbury visitor here first of the week.

Kindly take a glance at this page and all through the Eagle and see what you are getting for your money, then pay up for another year. Or at least for what may be behind. It takes money as well as nerve to run the Eagle in these close up times. See?

Mrs. A. C. Brown is reported quite sick.

Jas. Tolliver Called

Former Popular Sheriff of Letcher County Passes Away

After an illness extending over two weeks, James Tolliver, late Sheriff of Letcher county and one of Whitesburg's leading citizens, passed to the great beyond early Monday morning. Stricken with typhoid fever as he was and with all that medical talent could do the disease kept up its relentless ravages till the end came. He was a moral orderly walking man, and tho' not aligned with any church, he was an ardent admirer of the Christian religion and in his last few days leaned upon a crucified Savior, leaving it all to Him.

Jim Tolliver was a son of our good citizen, Melvin B. Tolliver, and was reared in the upper Millstone section and was one of eleven boys all of whom lived to manhood. He leaves behind eight brothers and two sisters.

In a hotly contested primary four years ago he was nominated by his party for sheriff and was duly elected in November. He made a safe and exemplary officer and retired last January 1 in the full confidence and respect of the citizens. He was about forty-six years of age and up until the beginning of his sickness was a strong and robust man. In his death we realize the uncertainties of life and the certainties of death. He leaves a widow who was a daughter of Wiley Quillen of the Neon section and a number of children, several of whom are grown to mourn his demise. These will sadly miss him, and and not only these, but his hundreds of friends and acquaintance will do the same. The remains were taken to the neighborhood of his childhood days where they were interred in the presence of a vast assembly of friends. We extend to all the bereaved our sincerest sympathies. May heaven smile and God's comfort bless and cheer.

WHEN--

The major portion of what is now Knott county belonged to Letcher county and the Smiths, Francis', Amburgeys, Combs', Jones', etc., joined in elections, attended county and circuit courts, swapped horses, drank apple brandy, fought fist battles, lawed one another and otherwise had big old-fashion times. At that time McPherson, where Hindman now is, was a neighborhood postoffice at the end of the route out of Whitesburg. Rockhouse at the mouth of Campbranch and Pinetop over on Carr were postoffices on the route. Uncle Joe Cornett was County Judge, Zeke Brashears County and Circuit Clerk, Jim Fitzpatrick, Jim Sarver and Jim Marrs about the only lawyers. Along in those times Shade Combs, Wils Sergeant, Harrison Banks, Marlin Brown, Tyler Haney, Kelly Hogg, Alex Stamper, Manon Jenkins, Bob Brashears, Babe Collins, Bob Bates, Quiller Bentley, Joel Wright, Jason L. Craft, John H. Jones, Ambrose Amburgey, Henderson Nickles, Lower John Holcomb, the Webb boys—Jason, Wiley and Miles—Isaac Fields, Ezekiel Yonts, Elijah Baker, Vent Bentley, Jos. S. Fairchild, Watson G. Caudill, Henry Day, David M. Maggard, Huston Tyree, Madison Collins, James W. Hogg, Solomon Frazier, (nigger) Jos. E. Cornett, Jno. A. Craft, Jerry Dixon and other Caudills, Backs, Whitakers and Hogg were the leading people talked about and when they lined up on either side in elections or other local affairs something was doing. The county was Democratic, politically speaking, but strange to say politics cut a very small figure in those days, tho' usually the county officials were Democrats.

WHEN--

The present County Attorney, Robt. Blair, ran a blacksmith shop in town and would make 50 horseshoes in 100 heats. His sather-in-law, the late Joseph S. Fairchild wore the belt as the best smith and Blair and Ned Webb were close on his heels. At that time the blacksmith shop was the most important institution of the day as all farmers' tools, horseshoes, nails, fishermen's gigs and even fish-hooks had to be furnished. All thru the day and long into the night the bellows blew and sparks flew from the anvil. The plowing and the hoeing on the little farm would actually stop if the blacksmith failed. In 1837 old Dutch Webb had the first blacksmith shop in what is now town and it stood where Prof. Harris now resides. About this time the salt well on the south side above the county bridge was bored. The hole was sunk in the edge of the bottom overlooking the river and week after week a man drove a horse hitched to a tongue like the old-time cane mill until a depth of 500 feet was reached. The water obtained produced considerable salt but a crack in the solid rock let in the surface water and thus the industry failed. Old Hiram Hogg who at the time owned the land was the promoter of the business.

WHEN--

A large bull feeding on the side of Pine mountain along the head waters of Pert and Cram Creek and fell into a big hole in the mountain. At this time the hole was said to have no bottom but reached all the way down to China or somewhere else. The bull was tracked to the opening and people who visited the place claimed they could hear the animal bellowing in the regions below. On the Sunday following a long cable was secured and all the people for miles around gathered to see Jim Williams lowered into the unknown bowels of the earth. A stout contraption, similar to a basket, was formed from the branches of trees and fastened securely to the cable attached to a windlass. At the appointed and solemn moment Jim Williams, pale as a sheet was placed in the basket and let down, down into the dark, deep hole. Over and over the windlass turned and down deeper and deeper went the explorer. At a distance of nearly 600 feet the rope slackened, the man in the basket had landed, but what of the bull? A small rope was carried from the top to be jerked in case of danger. Soon this began to wiggle and the windlass went to work again pulling the explorer to the surface. Scarcely a breath was breathed. What reports would he bring back from the Stygian night below? When the basket arrived there was no man in it—only the bull's two massive ears, severed from his head. Ran Polly then volunteered to make the trip down, which he did. The bull was a crushed mass of broken bones. The hole is about 15 feet in diameter and is a solid wall on all sides all the way down. How deep it has been in time is only to be imagined. Tons and tons of rocks and timbers have been piled into it to ring on and on till lost in the great depth below. Since the incidents related above took place the deep tunnel in the solid limestone has been known as the "bull hole" and has for years been used as a burying place for defeated candidates. Many a supposedly bright and useful light has gone out forever unwept and unsung in this dark deep dungeon.

A CROSS in Virginia where for years the impetus of good roads have been realized, the spirit of highway improvements is still at fever heat. Of our own people who have had experience with good roads (and all know about bad ones) this same spirit exists. The interests of the citizens of Wise county are identical with ours. They are like us, not only in this particular but in almost every other, and as this neighbor county of Wise awakes so should ours. We have said much of the Lonesome Pine Trail, for the present about the only much-urged highway project accessible to us, and it shall be our ambition not only to boost it in every reasonable way as well as any and all other highways.

The Hon. John W. Chalkley, an ardent apostle of good roads in Virginia and a striker for the Lonesome Pine Trail, lately wrote regarding it: "Seventy-five miles of the Lonesome Pine Trail direct north and south future trunk highway leading from Ironton, Ashland and Huntington on the Ohio river on the north, to Knoxville and Asheville on the south, lie in Virginia.

"Of this 75 miles a 50-mile continuous stretch from Jonesville, county seat of Lee, on thru the thriving towns of Pennington Gap, Big Stone Gap, Appalachia, Norton and Wise (old Gladeville) county seat of Wise, to Glamorgan, is already a hard surface road in excellent condition, a large part of it being bituminous macadam or concrete.

"Of the ten miles from the Tennessee line to Jonesville seven miles are well graded and drained ready for macadam surface, and the Lee county board of supervisors has already made financial arrangements to thoroughly grade and drain the remaining three miles next to the Tennessee line as soon as weather conditions permit in the spring. While this section may not be macadamized for two years yet, by midsummer the whole section should be in excellent shape, affording easy and comfortable automobile travel.

Great Progress Expected

"On the northernmost fifteen miles of the Virginia road, however, is where great progress will be made this year. Beginning at the big pine in the Kentucky-Virginia line in the Pound Gap on top of Cumberland Mountain, which legend attributes to have been the trysting place of June Tolliver, the Virginia Highway Commission made a survey last year down Cumberland mountain to 'The Pound,' a beautiful little valley settlement on Pound river, one of the headwaters of the Big Sandy.

"This survey follows in part the old trail, but is four miles long. The Wise county board of supervisors had already secured legislative authority under a Virginia law to lend the State Highway Commission $185,000 to build this section, and the contract will be let in the early spring. It will be a model road with easy grades and curves and an asphalt macadam surface 18 feet wide.

Improve at Heavy Cost

"From the Pound up Indian Creek to the top of the mountain back of Glamorgan is nine miles. This road was graded and drained at heavy cost ten years ago, and is in good condition for comfortable automobile travel almost throughout the year.

"However, at the request of the citizens of the Pound district, the Wise county board of supervisors will petition the court to order an election for $120,000 of district bonds to lay a bituminous macadam surface on this nine miles section.

"A large majority of the voters are pledged to the proposal and contracts will be let in the spring.

"The two miles from the top of the mountain to Glamorgan is not macadamized, but out of a former bond issue it was well graded, surfaced, drained and cindered, and it will be kept in good condition at all times.

"Therefore, in another ten months one can expect to travel the entire 75 miles of the Virginia section of the Lonesome Pine Trail in the utmost comfort thru the rich bluegrass farm lands of Lee and over fast developing coal lands of Wise. Nearly every mile will reveal scenic beauties and recreational opportunities unsurpassed in America.

Summer Hotel in Prospect

Based upon these assurances and upon reports of expected construction progress on the Kentucky section of the highway, responsible persons are already planning the construction of a big summer hotel with other facilities and attractions at Big Stone Gap to partially take care of the anticipated big influx of tourists upon the completion of the highway.

"Norton and Appalachia have already laid concrete-asphalt pavement on their main streets along this highway. Big Stone Gap has in hand $30,000 and has advertised for bids for $120,000 of bonds with which to build a three-mile concrete pavement along this highway to its eastern corporate limits. The preliminary engineering work is nearly completed and construction contract will be let in less than 60 days.

"In addition to this highway Lee county has many miles of good hard surface roads leading thru rich farming sections and into its Black Mountain coal fields. Wise county has a perfect net work of good macadam roads connecting its several progressive towns with all its large and nearly all its small coal and coke camps and villages as well as many outlying farming and orchard communities.

Added $600,000 Spent

"In addition to more than $1,000,000 spent in road construction eight to ten years ago, the Big Stone Gap and Norton districts have in the last two years spent $600,000. Construction contracts let last year in the eastern end of the county to be completed this year involve an expenditure of more than $350,000. This last is state highway work, and when completed there will be thorough hard-surface roads to Bluefield, W. Va. and beyond and to Abindon, Va. on the Lee highway, over which it is confidently expected within the next two years one can travel to Washington without passing over a single stretch of anything other than good and well maintained hard-surface roads."

Notice

To dog owners: The official record shows that there is listed for taxation in this county over 1800 dogs, and to this date only the rise of 300 of these have secured dog license at this office. Now, the grand-jury meets again in April at which time I am required to submit these delinquents for investigation. I will be glad for all persons owning dogs to secure their license.

EDITORIALS

UNDER the present prohibition enforcement laws the great government of the United States is striving, spending millions to save itself from the curse of intoxicating liquors. Already much of the vitality of the nation has been sapped; already the brightest and best minds of the land have been dazed, rendered worthless and dangerous or forced to languish in hospitals, often in the throes of death. And there are thousands yet too strong to fall under its awful weight!

ARE you a friend to your home newspaper? Do you encourage its publication and bolster it along the rugged route by subscribing for it? A town or county without one or more local newspapers is in a deplorable condition. No one to tell of the births or deaths or union of hearts; no medium thru which sympathy may be extended and no one to spread flowers upon the sleeping dust. At the bier the local newspaper offers its tears; at the altar it hands a basket of flowers. At the success of its fellow citizens it rejoices; at their failures it offers words of sympathy. Instead of curses it sends blessings; instead of obstacles it sends out a ray of happiness. Some days ago in a public speech one of our fellow citizens declared: "If the Mountain Eagle was fifty dollars a year I'd take it and gladly pay the price. It was born with us, grew up with us and is one of us. I would not be true to my birth-right, my people, county, State and nation if I was not loyal to it!" Such words coming from a man of the prestige of R. Monroe Fields in a different town and county from its own and his own and that, too, among strangers, so far as we know, makes us want to take heart and "try, try again."

MANY MARKED BY DEATH

(Editorial by Arthur Brisbane)

Discussing prohibition, keep this in mind: Many are marked for death in the United States now, thousands that do not know it. Whiskey labels are counterfeited, bottles, corks, everything is imitated by the bootleggers. Men drink, not knowing what they drink. Bootleg whiskey has varying degrees of deadliness. Sometimes it blinds and kills you in twenty-four hours, sometimes six weeks. For the great majority the effect is slow. Thousands have already suffered injury that can never be repaired and will drop off into the grave prematurely.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

Who Says Dairying Doesn't Pay?

You can produce milk at a good profit. Ask any dairyman who feeds Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. They make money. They have more or better milk to sell. Their feeding costs are far less than yours compared to the size of the milk checks. Their cows keep in better physical state than yours.

If you're buying feed because it's "cheap", you're cheating yourself—wanting milk as truly as if you poured it away. Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, rich in milk-making ingredients, isn't cheap to buy, but is most economical to use. It's all nutritious cereal stuffs with just enough molasses added to give it special relish. Cows do not tire of it. Ce-re-a-lia is flaky, clean and easy to handle—never cakes or lumps. If you are using your home-grown ground corn this season, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets with it. It will double the flow of milk and keep the cows in good condition. Before you get in your next "big supply" of feed,

Try Ce-re-a-lia Sweets Four Weeks At Our Risk.

Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets to any cow for 4 weeks. She must give more or better milk, and she must show a bigger profit than she is giving you now, or you get every cent back. You'll need about three sacks to make the trial. Call on us for chart and details.

HERE'S TO THE SENIORS

(By ESTEVA AND GERTRUDE)

Have you heard about the Seniors of 1922? Whitesburg High School puts out quite a few. We're proud of ourselves, just as proud as can be. The whole class numbers three times three. We have geometry sharks and Ciceroneans, too. And when you think about it—it's as good as any school can do.

There's Oscar, the athlete, staunch and true, Not only this, but a good sport, too; Then Janus comes in with but little to say, But the girls all like him—it must be his way. Poor little Johnny, we're all full of fear That his love affair might affect him this year.

Our Valedictorian is Gertrude, you know, And at the piano she sure makes a go. Then Ethel, the singer, has won great renown, Her voice is the wonder throughout the town, And there's Reba to prove that its not all in size, So when 'fessor's around she acts mighty wise.

Perhaps you've all forgotten that Edna's back in school, Just as mischievous as ever and often cracks a rule. May Dalna never change the least except in name, And we hope that Lemar may lead her in the game. Someone remarked that they heard Esteva say She wouldn't take an angel in preference to Gray.

Seriously, school days will soon over, and we'll be going away, But W. H. S. is engraved on our hearts to stay; Let us hope and live and struggle each and every day To make our country better in the upper, truer way, That Whitesburg and Letcher county as a rule May point with pride to College Hill—the ideal school.

Willie Sergeant has located in his newly bought property on Third street and his brother, Jno. D., has moved to his farm on Solomon.

No road bond bill has yet passed the Legislature in session at Frankfort. After this week the sixty-day session ends. Most people will no doubt be glad when the frolic is over. A few good laws, however, have been passed.

You can know the man who has the interest of himself and family, his town, county and country at heart. He takes the Eagle and places his printing and advertising with it. Sure, the Eagle is a little affair, but it works day in and day out for the good of all.

Big Sale now on at Shackelford's Store. Prices right.

What Uncle Sam Says About Fertilizer Quality

"The difference between a good brand of fertilizer and a poor one lies not so much in the difference that may exist in the total amount of plant food contained in it as in the quality of the materials of which it is made." (U.S. Dept. of Agriculture)

Quality in fertilizer, like character in men, is a question of performance and not of promise.

The Daybreak trade mark is the official stamp of quality. It is for your protection and guarantees to you in every bag of complete fertilizer the largest amount of—

- Readily Available Phosphorus
- The crop making material
- Graduated Nitrogen
- To feed the plant from seed-time to harvest
- Soluble Organic Potash
- From Ground Burley Tobacco Stems

In All—The largest amount of actual available plant food, in the best mechanical condition, for the least amount of money.

FIUME LEADERS OUSTED BY REBELS

Committee of National Defense Proclaims Final Overthrow of Zanella.

WIN AFTER FIERCE FIGHTING

Italy Is Asked to Send Representative to Administer Government of City Until Quiet Is Restored—Palace Wrecked by Shells.

Fiume, March 6.—The committee of national defense proclaimed the final overthrow of the provisional government under President Zanella, and the constituent assembly. The government capitulated after fierce fighting. The committee, upon assuming power, asked the Italian government to send a representative to administer the government of the city until quiet is restored.

Rome dispatches declared that President Zanella and his followers had fled to Buccari, near Fiume, after using a declaration transferring the authority to the national committee of defense. The capitulation followed an attack on the government palace by Fascists, who fired 20 cannon shots into the building.

Rome Reports Battle. Rome, March 6.—The council of ministers discussed at length the crisis in Fiume, which has complicated the already difficult situation confronting the new cabinet.

The attitude of President Zanella, who has been forced to hand over the government to the national committee of defense, does not appear quite clear here. Shortly after he assumed power, in October last, he came to Rome and obtained a loan of 20,000,000 lire. He then expressed a great belief in the Italian aspirations in Fiume, but upon his return to that place almost immediately incurred the enmity of the Italian element.

Since early Friday forces of Fascist, legionnaires and republicans have been in possession of the city. They captured the posts and telegraphs, and before their advance the police organized by Zanella retired to the government palace. The government forces had as their first line of defense a wall inclosing the small park in which the palace stands. They were soon obliged to retire inside the building.

Shells Wreck Palace.

Zanella's forces placed machine guns on the roof of the palace, which for some time checked the progress of their assaults. Deputy Giunta, leader of the Fascist, then captured an armored motorboat, belonging to the Italian navy, in the neighboring Bay of Abbadia, and with its guns opened fire against the palace. Thirty 75-millimeter shells were thrown into the building, doing considerable damage. Italian torpedo boats in Fiume harbor captured the motorboat, but the latter was again seized by the Fascist, who resumed their bombardment of the palace. The defenders then hoisted a white flag.

The report that Zanella fled from the city is denied. According to latest reports he was still inside the place, in the same room in which Gabriele d'Annunzio was slightly wounded by the fire of the troops sent against him by former Premier Giolitti in 1920.

President Abdicates.

Zanella has signed a statement agreeing to retire forever from public life in Fiume, and renouncing any aspiration of a political character.

The committee of national defense has invited the Italian government to assume the administration of the city. The Zanella police force escaped to the neighborhood village of Grenova, where, according to reports, it is enrolling recruits for an attempt to recapture Fiume.

The fascists and legionnaires are remaining under arms and have formed a national guard of honor so as to be ready for an attack.

One account places the losses of the Zanella forces at three killed and fifty wounded.

Call for D'Annunzio.

Former legionnaires from Fiume, led by Canale Palazzoli, have telegraphed Gabriele d'Annunzio to come to Fiume Sunday to participate in a procession. The procession will march to the tomb of Italy's unknown soldier, where the annexation of Fiume to Italy is to be proclaimed by the demonstrators. President Zanella and his followers have fled to Buccari, near Fiume.

Accounts received here say that the Zanella police attempted a sortie from the palace, but were repulsed after a sharp fight. The palace then was besieged. A lieutenant of carabinieri was killed and many on both sides were wounded. The revolutionists tried to bombard the palace from an armored boat, but were prevented from doing so by an Italian torpedo-boat.

The Italian destroyer Miraballo is expected to arrive shortly at Fiume from Pola with landing troops.

Evangelina Booth Ill. Long Beach, Cal., March 6.—Evangelina Booth, national commander of the Salvation Army, was taken ill with influenza and is confined to her bed here. It was announced that the commander's condition was not serious, but she would be confined to her room for several days.

14 KILLED WHEN TRAINS HIT BUS

Dozen Others Injured at Painesville, O.—Victims Returning From Dance.

DRIVER'S VIEW WAS OBSCURED

Express Crashes Into Machine and Hurls It Across Rails in Front of Another Speeding Train—Gas Tank Explodes and Fires Wreckage.

Cleveland, O., March 6.—Fourteen persons were killed and a dozen others injured late at night when a New York Central express train, eastbound, crashed into a crowded motorbus at the St. Clair street crossing in Painesville, 25 miles east of Cleveland.

Dead and dying were hurled along the railroad right of way for several hundred feet and bodies of three of the victims were on the locomotive pilot when the train was brought from its sixty-mile-an-hour speed to a halt, 400 yards from the scene of the collision.

A few seconds after the first collision, westbound train No. 3, speeding for Chicago, crashed into the wreckage of the bus, which, with some of the dead and injured, was thrown into its path.

The motor bus, owned by the Parish Truck company of Fairport, had just left its stand at Main and St. Clair streets, Painesville, for its last trip of the night. Many of the passengers were returning from a lodge meeting. Others were homeward bound from a dance.

The driver of the bus was among those killed. As the automobile moved onto the six-track crossing from the shadow of buildings, obscuring the view at the edge of the tracks, the express train was only a few hundred feet away.

None Had Time to Jump.

The train, which makes no stop at Painesville, was moving at terrific speed. Women passengers of the bus screamed, but none had time to jump out before the engine splintered and shattered the automobile.

Frank Vandie of Buffalo, the engineer, had slammed on the emergency brakes, but the train went onward, carrying debris on the engine front until its momentum could be halted.

Following is a corrected list of dead and injured as announced by the Painesville police, the first nine being from Fairport:

Gladys Lippilko, John Strums, Max Strums, Lillian Kotto, Hilda Praski, Mrs. Oscar Cooper, Mrs. John Barthel, Mrs. Frank Friedebau, Stanley Radtke, Richard Strand, Chardon; Kathryn Horvath, Richmond; William J. Sutter, Jr., Chardon; Raymond O'Leary, Painesville; George E. McGhee, Medina.

The injured: Andrew Adams, Fairport, driver of bus, dying; Mrs. Martin Steinbach, Fairport, condition believed to be critical; Nick Nemo, Fairport, believed dying; Raymond H. Hamilton, Fairport, serious; Charles Sullivan, Painesville, fractured ribs.

Bodies Scattered Far.

"Mangled bodies lay along the railroad for nearly the three blocks," said Chief of Police T. J. Appleton of Painesville, one of the first to reach the scene. "Some were thrown onto the platform at the station, two blocks from where the bus was hit. There were three bodies on the engine; a man, a woman, and a young girl."

The wreckage later caught fire when the gas tank of the bus exploded.

A. W. Barnes, crossing watchman, declares the bus stopped on the south side of the track to discharge passengers and that he flagged the driver with his lantern, but that the bus came on despite the warning. Chester Parrish, manager of the bus line, declares that a large oil tank passing the bus obstructed the view of the driver.

SEEK FATHER AND TWO SONS

Detroit Police Hear of Parents' Threat "to Do Away With the Boys."

Detroit, Mich., March 6.—At the request of Mrs. Barbara Besse police began a search for her husband, Ray Besse, and their two children, Ralburn, eight, and Lleudonie, six, who disappeared after Besse is alleged to have threatened to "do away with the boys." Besse was last seen, so far as the police could learn, walking hand in hand with the children toward the Detroit river. Near the water's edge at Orleans street the officers reported they found the footprints of two small children and a man. Besse, according to his wife's statement to the police, had been drinking recently.

ARREST 16 IN DRY-LAW RAID

Chicago-Peoria Agents Invade Soft Drink Parlors in Quincy, Ill.

Quincy, Ill., March 6.—A squad composed of Chicago and Peoria prohibition-enforcement agents raided a number of soft-drink parlors and placed under arrest sixteen proprietors charging them with violation of the Volstead law. The men when taken before United States Commissioner Ingraham waived preliminary hearings and were bound over to the federal grand jury.

PROGRAM OF DELAY?

Move to Defeat Sales Tax Advocates.

Ways and Means Sub-Committee Completes Draft of Incorporation of Scheme.

Washington, March 6.—Hoping that a program of delay might defeat sales tax advocates and win support to the new plan of insurance certificates, Republican house leaders announced that action on the revised bonus bill will be postponed probably two weeks.

The ways and means sub-committee completed the draft of the bill, incorporating the new scheme of cash payments to veterans whose adjusted service pay is not more than $50 and treasury insurance certificates to those entitled to more than $50. The full Republican membership of the ways and means committee then approved the revised bill.

Chairman Fordney announced that the measure would be submitted to the entire committee, both Republicans and Democrats next Tuesday. It will then be pigeonholed, he said, for ten days or two weeks, in order to permit house leaders to work among the house membership in an effort to secure support for it.

Announcement again was made that the house leaders have no intention of permitting the revised bill to go before a caucus of the entire Republican membership of the house. The bill will be reported directly to the house, Chairman Fordney again said, notwithstanding the fact that a Republican caucus held on January 27 ordered the ways and means committee to submit the bill to another caucus before presenting it in the house.

KENTUCKY SOLONS LOCKED IN

Unusual Events Mark the Closing of Blue Grass General Assembly.

Frankfort, Ky., March 6.—Refusal of the lieutenant governor to sign a bill as having "legally passed the senate" and a diligent search until early in the day for Governor Morrow in an effort to get the bill in his hands, closed one of the most unusual weeks in the history of the Kentucky general assembly. Other unique events of the week in the senate were a Republican filibuster, and an order to lock the doors of the senate to prevent members from leaving to break the quorum before adjournment until Monday. When the highway department reorganization bill was presented to Lieutenant Governor Thurston Ballard Friday night he declared it had not been passed legally. It will go to the governor.

Mr. Grismer served during the Civil war with the 102d regiment, New York volunteers and soon after the declaration of peace made his first theatrical appearance in Albany. He was a leading man until 1898, when he took up playwriting. Grismer's wife, Phoebe Davies of San Francisco, was one of the best known actresses among her contemporaries. She died in 1912.

U. S. AND CANADA FACE COAL STRIKE

Mine Union Official Says Men Will Vote on Walkout for April 1.

NEXT MOVE UP TO OWNERS

International Board Member Says Operators Refuse to Negotiate Other Than on Their Own Demands.

Calgary, Alberta, March 6.—Canada and the United States face an international strike of coal miners to begin on April 1, according to a statement issued by Robert Livett, international board member for district No. 18, United Mine Workers of America. The announcement followed the break-up of the peace conference between miners and operators.

Mr. Livett said that ballots had been sent out to all locals of the United Mine Workers in both Canada and the United States, and that the members were being asked whether or not they desired to give power to the policy committee, appointed at the Indianapolis convention, to call a general strike on April 1 if agreements were not entered into by that date. He added that ballots were to be returned to the various district headquarters by March 15. Mr. Livett would not express an opinion regarding the probable outcome of the vote.

Up to Operators.

Mr. Livett said the next move was up to the operators. They refused at a meeting here to negotiate other than on their own demands, he asserted.

As soon as they are willing to recede from their mandatory position we shall be only too willing to reach an agreement that will be satisfactory to both sides," he explained. "The situation is such that in all probability there will be cessation of operations on April 1 unless the operators alter their attitude in the interval."

"Saving Wage" Demanded.

New York, March 4.—Cheaper anthracite coal for the public, to be made possible by slashing the profits of the mine owner rather than by reducing the laborer's wage, is advocated by the United Mine Workers of America in a statement issued here.

"Mine owners freely admit that the cost of coal to the consumer is too high," declares the statement. "The remedy they suggest, as a preliminary to the opening of new negotiations for a working agreement with the workers, is a reduction in the cost of digging the coal—the miners' wage—which is placed by the operators at $3.92 a ton."

The mine workers indicate that lower labor costs will represent a "bare living wage," whereas they insist upon "a saving wage commensurate with the hazards of the industry."

"Coal sells at New York, Philadelphia and in other large cities at prices ranging up to $16 a ton, which represents the operators' own profits, profits of the railroads, profits of the coal sales company, the royalty takers and distributing agents," the statement sets forth.

"The operators very skillfully avoid any reference to reductions of a substantial nature in the matter of their own profits," the statement continues. "It is therefore obvious that there must be some connection between the operators and all those who handle the coal between the operators and the consumers and, of course, from an interested standpoint, the operators can see deflation only so far as the miners are concerned and a continuation of the earnings of operators, railroads, sales companies and others."
